

AMERICAN STUDIES

College of Arts and Sciences

Make an IMPACT with a degree in American Studies

LEARN how to think for yourself!

BECOME a more informed and engaged citizen!

BUILD a better world!

	FIRST YEAR	SECOND YEAR	THIRD YEAR	FOURTH YEAR+
Your Courses	Take Gen Eds, Introduction to American Studies, Composition I & II , and other introductory courses in affiliated humanities programs	Take Gen Eds, Languages. Take electives in film, literature, digital humanities, sports, war, Tulsa arts, the environment , and other programs	Take electives, Theories & Methods of American Studies, and 2000-level Language. Consider taking the Truth and Reconciliation in the Americas minor	Take electives and the Senior Seminar in American Studies. Take internships in the community
Your Experience	Learn diverse cultural perspectives on issues like immigration, citizenship, culture, identity, and power via lectures and discussions	Develop your research and critical thinking skills, digital literacy skills, and American Studies toolkit	Apply your critical thinking skills and American Studies toolkit to society & culture. Meet with mentors to prepare for the Senior Seminar	Prepare your post-college career plan. Continue pursuing research, internship, and leadership opportunities
Your Community	Participate in AMST socials and attend guest talks. Get to know faculty mentors. Discover student organizations and local advocacy and activist groups	Consider leadership opportunities in SGA, CAS Ambassadors, and the Student Council . Continue developing connections in your community	Define and pursue your activist calling. Continue pursuing leadership opportunities.	Collaborate and build justice initiatives. Continue pursuing leadership opportunities.
Your Career Readiness	Develop compositional, critical thinking, and analytical skills	Hone your analytical skills and American studies toolkit. Learn to compose your thoughts in multiple media formats; become digitally literate	Build connections for your future career path. Start working on your resume. Get involved in social justice issues or with local non-profits.	Meet with Career Services, attend career fairs, and apply to graduate programs /jobs. Develop a roadmap for applying American Studies in your career.
Your Personalized Path	Consider taking the American Studies Pre-Law option or the AMST B.S. for careers in business. Take internships for credit.

YOU WILL LEARN

How to approach complex problems with analytical rigor, flexibility, and compassion. How to speak clearly and write well, across platforms. To understand issues of identity, power, and responsibility so you may thrive in a complex multicultural society

WHAT IS NEXT

Work in fields like: Teaching, Higher Education, Museums, Libraries, Non-Profit Management, Law, Journalism & Media Production, Social Work.

Enter Law School, Graduate School, or Business School.

Learn more about building your custom path, visit: okla.st/american_studies

