

DEPARTMENT OF
LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES
College of Arts and Sciences

Have meaningful influence with a degree in Linguistics

EXPLORE how society and language interact here and abroad.
Learn to ORGANIZE and present data to various audiences.
GAIN SKILLS to work in both public and private sectors.

	FIRST YEAR	SECOND YEAR	THIRD YEAR	FOURTH YEAR+
Your Courses	Build a firm foundation through general education that count toward the major, such as ENGL 2243(H,I) or 2443(I) .	Take the only required course: 3063. Continue building a foundation with general education courses that are also in the minor, e.g. 4093, PHIL 3003 .	Deepen your study of how language works with personalized upper-level coursework, e.g., ENGL 4013. Consider adding a TESOL certificate.	Finish the minor with electives that reflects your interests and career goals.
Your Experience	Enjoy small, discussion-filled classes. Attend visiting speaker events around campus to learn about your	Become a Writing Center intern and explore study and service abroad programs.	Take a summer course at the Doel Reed Center in Taos, NM , or work closely with a faculty member on an honors thesis project.	Present research at the Southern Plains conference or Undergraduate Research Symposium . Research and apply for Fulbright opportunities .
Your Community	Join the English club and TESLing club to meet peers.	Join Sigma Tau Delta , the English honors society or become an officer in the English Club .	Apply for research opportunities, such as Wentz and AURCA . Come to Language Science seminars.	Consider a leadership position in English club, TESLing club, or Sigma Tau Delta .
Your Career Readiness	Talk with faculty and your academic advisor to learn about the degree and career opportunities .	Meet with career services to prepare for applying and interviewing for jobs. Learn about English department scholarships page and apply.	Research internship opportunities, such as Spero Project OKC , and at Stillwater and Edmond Public Schools .	Attend local job fairs, Meet with Career Services, visit the Writing Center for help with your resume, and/or apply to graduate school.
Your Personalized Path	Pair with an English, Languages and Literatures, CDIS or Computer Science major. Get a TESOL certificate with one more class.

YOU WILL LEARN

How languages around the world work. To collect, organize, and present data. About the ways that language and society interact to affect our lives

WHAT IS NEXT

Work in fields like education, publishing, professional writing, law, or government.

Enter professional school, such as graduate school, law school or business school

Learn more about building your custom path, visit:
languages.okstate.edu

